September 2008

Dear Marching Enthusiasts:

Welcome to Lincoln-Way Central High School and our 13th Annual Marching Band Invitational. We sincerely hope your visit here will be an enjoyable one, and I thank all of you for attending.

I am well aware of the time and energy that goes into a first-class marching program and I want to thank and commend all of the fine young men and women performing today. Parents, you must feel proud as you watch your sons and daughters today, as well you should. Please continue to be there for them as they very much need your support.

To the directors of these fine bands, I also say thank you for your commitment. We are well aware that the time you put into creating this wonderful experience for the children of your community takes away from your own families.

We are pleased to welcome the University of Wisconsin Eau Claire Marching Band in exhibition, as well as our own Marching Knights and Marching Griffins.

Congratulations, and have a wonderful day!

Regards,

Dr. Lawrence A. Wyllie, Superintendent

Jennifer Greenberg,
Dad & I were stumped as to what we wanted to say to you. We didn't want to say the same things like how proud of you we are. Or that we know you will do well in competition because we know how hard you work. We tell you that all the time. We wanted to say something that we don't say that often. It finally occurred to us as we passed your room.

JEN CLEAN YOUR ROOM!!

- Visual Artistry: expression; phrasing; variety; and visual musicality.

General Effect Music - 40 pts.
Two judges are located in the press box and base scoring on the following elements:
- Repertoire Effectiveness: contribution for enrichment/enhancement (percussion, brass, woodwinds); creativity/imagination; full range of expressions and volume levels; use of time; and variety (texture).
- Showmanship Effectiveness: communication of roles; emotion; entertainment; professionalism; and spirit/intensity.
- Coordination Effectiveness: audio/visual blend; auxiliary contribution; continuity/unity; maximized effects; and staging.

Percussion/Color Guard
Two judges evaluate the performance of these groups, but these scores are not used in determining the final band score.

Timing and Penalties
Judge is located on the field and applies penalties in regard to physical boundaries within which the band must perform as well as timing restrictions. A band must be on the field and ready by the time they are announced, perform, and leave the field within certain time frames.

The BodyBeat® is a patented new metronome that produces a pulsing vibration allowing musicians to easily internalize the beat.

Feeling the beat, not having to listen to clicks or look at blinking LEDs, makes it much easier to concentrate on the music and play in correct time.
